Description

A pair of bronze plinth candlesticks, each gracefully poised upon by a finely cast, gilt-bronze recumbent lion figure, exuding a sense of power and classical emblems of strength and guardianship. From the sculptural plinth rises a fluted bronze stem, adorned with a gilt acanthus leaf capital supporting elegant scrolling branches. Suspended from the branches are tiers of finely cut faceted roundels and prism drops, catching and refracting light with dazzling brilliance, centred with a candle nozzle. The lustrous crystal complements the warmth of the gilt mounts, creating a striking interplay of texture and light.
