Description

This elegant 19th-century semi-ship decanter features a striking conical form and finely engraved decoration. At its centre is the armourial crest of Clan Tweedie, with the motto "THOLE AND THINK ON" inscribed on a flowing ribbon below a shield. Delicate foliate engravings frame the coat of arms, adding depth and refinement. The reverse is engraved with a crown over anchor, a symbol of the British navy.

The decanter is topped with a rounded, floral-engraved stopper that fits snugly into the wide, double-collared neck, both decorative and practical. A distinguished piece, it reflects the pride and heritage of a historic Scottish clan, combining function with heirloom quality.
